ABOUT US

Alimesa is a private family company with more than 40 years of experience in the seafood industry. The processing and packing plant (Expotuna) located in Guayaquil, began its activities in 2005 committed with the continuous improvement and premium quality orientation in all of our seafood products.

QUALITY

We place special emphasis on the care and selection of the products which later are subject to rigorous national and international inspections from the moment is harvested, throughout the processing, packing, storage until the moment the product has been shipped; this makes it possible to guarantee its TRACEABILITY and offer 100% best quality according to the demand of competitive markets.

Our PLANT operates under strict quality standards and has both, national and international certifications such as:

Alimesa's QUALITY control team constantly monitors and analyzes each production lot 24 hours a day all year around to ALWAYS guarantee the highest quality.
